About Wright State

The youngest of Ohio's twelve state universities has come of age. Founded in 1964 as the Dayton campus of Ohio State and Miami Universities with one building and 3,200 students, Wright State University today serves more than 14,000 students from the Dayton area, the state of Ohio, and other states and countries.

Wright State offers a comprehensive array of programs through its nine major academic divisions. Eight different bachelor's degree programs are offered in nearly eighty fields through the Colleges of Business and Administration, Education, Liberal Arts, Science and Engineering, and the School of Nursing. More than twenty programs leading to the master's degree in many of those fields are coordinated by the School of Graduate Studies. The School of Medicine has been enrolling students in its M.D. program since 1976, and the new School of Professional Psychology will begin admitting students to its Psy.D. program in 1979. The university's first Ph.D. program, in biomedical sciences, will also begin admitting students in 1979. The College of Continuing and Community Education, located in the downtown Dayton Kettering Center, offers noncredit courses and workshops and special certificate programs in professional studies.

The four oldest buildings on campus, completed by the time university status was granted in 1967, comprise Founders Quadrangle, the hub of university academic and administrative activities. The University Center houses dining rooms, lounges, student offices, and the bookstore. Hamilton Hall provides residence facilities for 320 men and women in separate wings.

The Physical Education Building's main gym is home court for the Raider basketball team, and the building also contains an auxiliary gym, a 75-foot swimming pool with a spectator capacity of 500, classrooms, a dance room, special exercise facilities for the handicapped, saunas, handball and squash courts, and a lab for physiology of exercise.

The University Library has collections of books, journals, documents, and audiovisual materials related to every teaching field, as well as special collections of rare and valuable documents and memorabilia, including the Wright Brothers Collection. The Television Center, adjacent to the library, has studios and production facilities.

The Creative Arts Center is home for the fine arts, including theatre, music, art, and art education. Besides classrooms, there are two theatres, two concert halls, and two art galleries.

The Brehm Laboratory of Environmental Sciences, the Biological Sciences Building, and the Medical Sciences Building provide classrooms and laboratories for the university's expanding programs in the sciences, especially in the health-related fields.

The Student Services Building, completed in 1977, brings together most of the offices and services which exist to help students make the most of their Wright State education. An unusual feature of the campus is a tunnel system which links every major building, providing both convenience and shelter in case of emergencies.

Wright State University has been built with a philosophy of community orientation and is continually striving to improve its present programs and activities, and add new ones, to serve community needs. The university was founded as a result of a community fund-raising effort in 1962.

Robert J. Kegerreis,
president

Robert J. Kegerreis is the second president of Wright State University. He has held the post since July, 1973.

After two years at Ohio University as professor and chairman of the marketing department, Dr. Kegerreis came to Wright State in 1969 as dean of the College of Business and Administration. In 1971, he was promoted to a vice-presidency, and two years later was named president of the university. His career as a teacher and administrator in higher education followed extensive experience in the business world.

He is a director of several corporations and a member of a number of professional associations and honorary societies.

His current public service involvement includes: president of the Ohio College Association; chairman of the Ohio Board of Regents Advisory Committee on Lifelong Learning; member of the Executive Committee and president of the Dayton-Miami Valley Board of Directors; member of the Board of Trustees and chairman of the Instruction Committee of the Methodist Theological School in Ohio; member of the Board of Trustees of Otterbein College; member of the Clarkson College Advisory Board; member of the Board of Trustees of the Engineering and Science Foundation; member of the Board of Trustees of the Dayton Art Institute; and membership in other civic organizations and committees.

Dr. Kegerreis holds four degrees from Ohio State University. He was awarded two bachelor's degrees in 1943, a Master of Business Administration in 1947 (after combat service as a naval officer), and a Ph.D. in business administration in 1968.

He and his wife, Katherine, have a son and a daughter.

Don Mohr,
director of athletics

Wright State is fortunate to have an athletic director who saw the "handwriting on the wall." When Mohr was planning the WSU athletic program, he included a women's program which equalled that of the men. Sports which receive grant-in-aid money at the present time are men's and women's basketball and swimming, women's volleyball, soccer, and wrestling.

Mohr has been associated with the world of sports since his days at Cincinnati North College Hill High School where he played football, baseball, and basketball for four years, and ran track for two years.

His first coaching position was at Cincinnati Reading High School where he was assistant coach in football and basketball. He took over the head baseball job in 1951 and did scouting for the Los Angeles (then Brooklyn) Dodgers and Cincinnati Reds during the summer.

He was appointed principal at Reading in 1956. He remained head baseball coach until 1963 and left Reading in 1965. While at Reading, he also received a Master of Education degree from Xavier University in 1961.

Then came the move to Wright State in 1966 as head of financial aid, placement, and the veterans office. He was asked to initiate an athletic program, which he did during the 1968-69 school year when he started a soccer team. In April 1971, he was named Director of Athletics.

Mohr's latest duty is chairman of the Division II Great Lakes Regional selection committee for the second straight year in basketball. He had been a member of the advisory committee for the previous four years in both basketball and baseball.

Raider Coaching Staff

Leading the Wright State basketball fortunes this season will be head coach Ralph Underhill and his assistants, Jim Brown and Bob Grote. Underhill is starting his first year as a collegiate head coach after spending the last six years as an assistant at Tennessee-Chattanooga.

Underhill was instrumental in leading UT-Chattanooga to the NCAA Division II national championship in 1976-77 with a 23-5 record. That came on the heels of a runner-up team in 1975-76 which finished with a 23-9 record.

A graduate of Tennessee Tech and Western Kentucky, Ralph spent one year as the head coach at Louisville Manual High School after a highly-successful stint as head coach at Ohio County High School in Kentucky.

While at Ohio County, Underhill led the team to a 126-30 record from 1965-71 and finished as the state runner-up in 1968-69. His team at Manual High School finished with a 24-6 record and advanced to the state tournament.

A member of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes since his days at Tennessee Tech, Underhill has earned numerous coaching honors since his first job in 1965. He was the Western Kentucky High School Coach of the Year in 1969 and the Louisville Quarterback Club High School Coach of the Year in 1972.

Assisting Underhill in his first year at Wright State is associate coach Jim Brown who is starting his seventh year at Wright State. A graduate of the University of Dayton, Brown coordinates the academic standing of the varsity players as well as the recruiting for the staff. He played his high school basketball at Belmont High School under former WSU coach John Ross.

Brown came to Wright State in 1970 after a tour of duty in the Army. Among the duties assigned to Brown this season is the coordination of academic standing of the varsity players and coordinating the recruiting for the staff.

Joining Wright State as a part-time coach this year is former WSU all-American Bob Grote. The Cincinnati-native is currently a member of the New York Mets organization in professional baseball. While at Wright State, Grote lettered four times each in basketball and baseball and finished his career as the second all-time leading scorer.

Courtside Conversation—

Although the NCAA has yet to release its first Division II rankings of the year, Basketball Weekly listed Wright State as the 10th best Division II team in the country this past week with Eastern Illinois as the top team. The first poll conducted by the NCAA will be released next week.

This will be the first of two games televised over WDTN-TV this year. As he has in the past six years, Omar Williams will be handling the play-by-play.

Wright State holds a victory over Northeastern Illinois in the only previous meeting. The Golden Eagles of Chicago nearly upset the Raiders in 1976-77 when it took WSU three overtimes to score a 98-96 victory when the visitors overcame a 16-point halftime deficit. Senior Dan Huguey scored a career high 25 points in that game, including 14 points in the overtime periods.

Northeastern Illinois plays tonight for the first time since a December 15 victory over Lakeland, 98-79, for one of three wins in nine games. Two of the leading scorers through nine games for coach John Schultz have been lost to grade problems. Both Marcus Dillard (10.5 ppg.) and Lindsay Douglas (9.3 ppg.) were lost to the books. Junior guard Eric Sawyer leads the team with a 13.6 scoring average.

As of this writing, the roster for Northeastern Illinois was still in question with the verdict on eligibility still out on several players. Whatever the case, it will be a revamped team that Schultz brings to Dayton tonight. Also, one that is virtually starting a new season.

The Golden Eagles faced two top notch opponents in early season play, losing to Iowa State (129-69) and Wisconsin-Green Bay (64-42), last year's Division II runnerup to Cheyenne State.

Better shooting from the field has been a key in Wright State's last four wins (St. Joe's, Otterbein, Youngstown State and Capital). In that span, the Raiders have burned the nets to the percentage of 55.9 which has upped their season percentage to 49.0. In the latest Division II statistics, the Raiders were still ranked sixth in free throw percentage with Jimmie Carter also listed sixth among the top individuals.

The starting lineup of Bob Schaefer, Jimmie Carter, Steve Hartings, Eddie Crowe and Bob Cook are shooting a combined 53.0 percent of their two-pointers. All but Cook, who is at 48.5 percent, are above 50 percent with Hartings (56.9) and Carter (56.7) topping all players. The same quintet is shooting free throws at 79.0 percent. And, would you believe that Schaefer is the lowest of the five at 72.5 percent.

Wright State's busy schedule continues next Monday with the second of four games at the UD Arena. This time Central State provides the opposition for the 7:30 p.m. start. The Marauders are off to the same 8-1 start as Wright State and also have two games prior to Monday night's meeting. CSU met Rio Grande on Wednesday and Indiana State-Evansville tonight, both on the road.

Senior Melvin Crafter of Dayton (Roosevelt) leads CSU with a 25.1 scoring average which is 12th in Division II. Central State is among the national leaders in both field goal percentage (54.0) and free throw percentage (79.3). In what was to be a rebuilding season for veteran coach Lu Wims, the Marauders are off to an excellent start.

Following Monday's game, the Raiders travel to Indianapolis for a rematch with Indiana Central on Wednesday and then back home for a Saturday game with Thomas More in the PE Building. In the first game against ICU this year, Wright State took a narrow 72-70 win to give the Raiders a 4-0 lead in the series. Last year, then-freshman Eddie Crowe scored a three-point play in the final seconds to give WSU a 78-75 win at Indiana Central.

Wright State's basketball program is a publication of the Sports Information Office, David L. Stahl, director, and Steve Kelly, assistant director. Layout and production by Dennis Kelble, University Publications. Contributing writers Richard Fletcher, Rachel Pequignot and Brent Rutkowski, sports information office.

Cook providing senior leadership

No one really expected Bob Cook to be in the starting lineup when Wright State opened its season this year. Not with all five starters returning and a couple junior college transfers on the scene.

As a matter of fact, Bob Cook almost decided the same fate even before the season started.

"I really wasn't looking forward to this season," admitted the 6-4 Miamisburg product. "I had a wrong attitude.

"I thought a new coach would look more toward the underclassmen than me. I thought to myself, here I am a senior and I haven't really done anything to distinguish myself. I thought I'd be the guy they'd use to practice against the starting team, the guy who would play in mop-up situations."

Cook figured junior Billy Wilson and sophomores Eddie Crowe and Mike Zimmerman, plus freshman Vince Shively would all get the long look. After all, Cook had played in 56 games since his freshman season and carried a 5.8 scoring average.

After appearing in only eight games as a freshman, Cook started the final 10 games as a sophomore, scoring 222 points on an 11-16 team.

As a junior, Cook started off on the right foot, but suffered a knee injury in the sixth game against Miami and was ineffective for much of the season.

The self-pity didn't last too long, however. "I finally figured that Coach Underhill had to make good his first season and that I'd give it my best shot. In the long run, I had too much pride to write my senior year off. I was determined to win a starting spot, and if I didn't it was because the other guy was better than me."

Cook started hustling the first day of practice back on October 15 and it paid dividends right away. He has started all nine games for the Raiders and will be in his customary spot tonight with his 9.6 scoring average.

Underhill, an assistant at UT-Chattanooga, came to WSU with an open mind. "I didn't know anything about him, and I liked it that way. It didn't take long to find out that Bob was a competitor. You can see it in his face."

"I like his size for a guard. I can use him as a guard or even a small forward, depending on what lineup I'm using. He can play up front on the press, or the backline which he's done several times this season.

"As a senior he's given us solid leadership. He's a hustler. In the last 25 seconds against Northern Kentucky he was on the floor twice after loose balls. He kept it in play for us, and that's a statistic you don't see in the box score."

Cook prefers Underhill's running, pressing game. "I think I'm more suited to it," he says.

"I'm playing more of a floor leader role than I did in the past, and I like it. Eddie and Mike have played a lot, but they still have a lot to learn about college ball."

"I know my limitations," Cook continued. "I'm not a sure-fire shooter. I'm not super quick and I'm only an average jumper. I have to make up for this with hustle and sweat. My shooting has improved and I'm proud of that."

Indeed it has to the tune of 48.5 percent from the floor, the best he has ever had. In addition to that, Cook leads the team with 39 assists through nine games and is shooting 83.3 percent from the free throw line.

Before the season began Cook felt the Raiders would be 3-3 after the opening six games. But after wins over Miami and Northern Kentucky, he and his teammates gained confidence to the point of not being surprised with the 8-1 record.

"Just how far can this team go?" he asked himself. "A long, long way. We're improving, especially with the press. It's quite an offensive weapon. We've bothered every team we've played with it."

As for his presence in the starting lineup, "I think I've surprised a lot of people," Cook says. "But, I haven't surprised myself."

His continued consistency could go a long way in earning Wright State its second NCAA tournament bid with hopes of gaining some national ranking as the season progresses. His leading by example can do nothing but inspire the younger players to better performances under pressure.

Tonight's featured player . . .

James Pinkney

This Year: Jim began the season as the starting center for the Raiders, but with the outstanding play of Steve Hartings, he has moved to a reserve role. One of the more physical players on the team, Pinkney is averaging 3.4 points per game through the first nine games and pulling down 3.2 rebounds. The transfer from Broward Community College in Florida has a single-game high of six points against both Miami and Otterbein. His 10 rebounds against the Redskins were a key in WSU's 64-63 upset victory over the defending Mid-American Conference champion. While at Broward C.C., Pinkney earned all-state junior college honors, averaging 15 points and 12 rebounds a game. He averaged 14 points and 10 rebounds in his senior year at Coconut Creek High School in Pompano Beach.

Coach's Evaluation: "Jim is a good, strong rebounder who has impressed us with his hard work and good attitude. He loves to go to the glass and bring down the rebounds. He has a good shooting touch around the basket. He and Leon Manning were considered the top two rebounders in the Florida junior college league. Can play forward and center, and will see plenty of playing time."

Personal: Full name—James J. Pinkney. Age 20 (born July 25, 1958). College: Education (major—undecided). The son of James M. and Lucille Pinkney, James has three brothers, two older and one younger. Was most valuable player of his high school team.

Alumni Association

Each year the Alumni Association is proud to present the traditional awards to senior athletes and others for their outstanding participation on our university's intercollegiate teams. Our support and recognition of progress is not limited to plaques and handshakes, however. Look for the Game Ball Raffle Ticket Sales. They are paying for the team's basketballs. Notice who is sitting around you in the stands. More alumni are buying discount season tickets through the Association.
